

HEXAFIX® quick-action coupling

HEXAFIX® for mixing paddle change-over in next to no time without additional aids

It's a well-known problem on construction-sites: You urgently need to change a mixing paddle but you simply can't find the necessary changing tool. The result: you waste time, you lose money and your blood pressure rises. There is a way to spare yourself all this annoyance! With HEXAFIX®, the innovative and patented quick-action coupling. For mixing paddle change-over without special aids.

With HEXAFIX® you have several advantages in one:

- you extend the life of your mixing tools because they are easier to clean
- you save a lot of space; mixers fit in any vehicle when the mixing tools are removed from them
- you can switch without difficulty from one mixing tool geometry to another; this is ideal for processing materials of different viscosities
